HITLER GETS ARMY READY

Lauds His Troops; World Waits Word

NURNBERG, Germany, Sept. 12 (AP) — Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, addressing 13,000 officers and men of the army, air force and marines today, assured them:

"You have the best weapons existing today, you are getting the best training and I know you have the best character."

For the first time in eight days of rallies at the tenth annual Nazi party congress here, the Fuehrer stood in the reviewing stand without his trusted chief lieutenant, Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering.

Unknown to the great multitude, Goering was taken ill suddenly last night and removed to a nearby town for "absolute rest."

Europe War Crisis Felt on Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12 (INS) — The European war crisis reached today into San Francisco bay, where King George VI's man of war H. M. S. York was awaiting an emergency mobilization of British army and navy reserve officers on the Pacific Coast.

Crowds standing before his hotel merely were told by a loud-speaker:

"The police president wishes

GERMANY

to announce that Field Marshal Goering presently is not at his hotel nor is he likely to return soon."

Hitler, whose portentous address on foreign policy will conclude the congress tonight, spoke only seven minutes to the military forces.

He assured them that only by their aid had the annexation of Austria been possible.

"No negotiations, no conferences gave us our natural right to unity," Hitler declared. "We

President at Bedside

'I Feel Rocky,' Jim Tells Dad

ROCHESTER, Minn., Sept. 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt was cheered today by the apparent success of a serious stomach operation on his eldest son, James.

The chief executive was with his son as he rallied from the effects of the anesthesia at the Mayo clinic.

"How do you feel?" the President asked.

"Rocky, rocky," came the reply.

A bulletin regarding James' condition issued this morning said:

"He had as good a night as could be expected for the first post-operative night. Temperature 99, pulse 106, respiration and blood pressure normal."

The bulletin was signed by Dr. H. K. Gray, the operating physician, and Dr. G. B. Eusterman of the Mayo clinic.

FAMILY RELIEVED

Jokingly, the President said he understood Dr. Gray had some trouble getting through James' old rowing muscles.

James once was a member of Harvard's varsity crew.

Secretary Early reported that the President, Mrs. Roosevelt and James' wife, Betsy, "were greatly relieved" when they found James' ulcer was a benign rather than a malignant one.

Malignant ulcers are those which involve cancer. Benign ulcers do not.

Post-operation examinations, Early said, had demonstrated positively that the ulcer was non-malignant.

Dr. Gray talked with reporters after the operation in company with Dr. Ross T. McIntire, White House physician.

He explained that James' ulcer had been in the upper part of the stomach. It was a large ulcer, the physician said, and it was feared it might penetrate the stomach wall.

After the ulcer had been removed a second operation, which Dr. Gray described as "a short-circuiting type," was performed. It consisted of joining the intestine to the back wall of the stomach—in medical parlance a posterior gastroenterostomy.

In mid-morning, the President left his special train for a visit to James' bedside. Earlier, he had been shown today's favorable bulletin and responded: "Fine."

A crowd had gathered at the special train, and, like one last night, applauded the Chief Executive.

All Britain Steeled For War

LONDON, Sept. 12 (AP)

—The British cabinet apparently satisfied itself in a two-hour emergency meeting today that it had done all it could for the moment both to head off war and to be ready if Adolf Hitler tells his army to march to the east.

Official silence effectively blocked efforts to learn what the ministers said and did. But the fact that they decided not to meet later today was taken unofficially to mean they were convinced further diplomatic steps before Hitler's address in Nurnberg would be futile.

Encouraged by political and public support on all sides, the cabinet was believed to have given first place to military steps if British warnings proved ineffective and there developed the likelihood of war over Czechoslovakia.

WILL FIGHT FOR FRANCE

The ministers were said to feel they had taken every step advisable in advance of the speech to convince Germany that Britain would fight at the moment France's integrity was menaced. They were understood to have reviewed in their meeting the military, naval and aerial precautionary measures already taken. Observers thought these were considerably more extensive than meagre announcements would indicate.

The most obvious naval movements were at Invergordon, on the north coast of Scotland, where numerous volunteer reserves joined home fleet cruise ships for two weeks "normal" training.

MINISTERS STAY IN TOUCH

No communique issued from 10 Downing street, but it was understood key ministers would be in constant communication with Prime Minister Chamberlain until late tonight.

BENNY GOODMAN

Fans Wait Music 'Battle of Century'

Count the days, you jitterbugs!
And watch the calendar, you "straight" music addicts!
Then the fun will begin!

The Boston Evening American's big Swing versus Straight dance-band battle of the century takes place October 24, in Boston Garden.

And DON'T FORGET—

BENNY GOODMAN will be leading his own world famous "swing" musicians in one corner.

And RUDY VALLEE leading exponent of "straight" harmony, will be swinging the baton for his Connecticut Yankees in the other.

BIG NEWS for lovers of dance music anywhere is presence of EITHER of these two bands.

But BOTH of them will be at Boston Garden October 24, each striving to outdo the other.

And lest there be a moment's letdown between rounds, Harry Marsh and his orchestra, always Boston favorites, will be on hand to keep the crowd's toes tapping.

But WAIT NOW—
There's MORE!

HERE'S YOUR CHANCE!

Boston Garden will also be the scene, October 24, of the Boston Evening American's All-Greater Boston Jitterbug Contest, with a week's stage engagement as first prize for the winning couple.

There'll be elimination trials for the Jitterbug Contest in scores of neighborhoods and communities. Watch the Boston Evening American for YOUR CHANCE.

In general charge of these preliminary trials is Joe Rubin, night club and radio maestro.

He can be reached at his Metropolitan Theater building office.

ENTRY BLANKS and full details will appear in the Boston Evening American.

The first of the preliminary elimination contests will be held tomorrow night at the Brockton Fair, with none other than Paul Whiteman as the judge.

HOW'S WORLD GOING?

The purpose of the battle of the bands and the jitterbug contest is two-fold:

To find out whether public sentiment is inclining toward Goodman's swing or Vallee's modulated harmonies.

And to raise money for the Boston Evening American Christmas Basket Fund.

Admission to the final at the Garden on the night of October 24 will be $1 and will entitle the customer to dance to either swing or melody for seven hours.

Entry blanks for the Brockton preliminaries will be found today on Page 12 of this newspaper.

Illicit Love Leads Two To Death

NEW YORK, Sept. 12—Clandestine love that couldn't surmount the obstacle of estrangement and an ailing husband today was believed responsible for a suicide pact that left the bullet-torn bodies of a pretty Bronx librarian and her athlete-admirer lying on a Long Island beach.

A rustic cabin at Peconic Bay in which the couple apparently toasted death with liquor, provided the background for the tragedy in which Mrs. Juneau Weed, 30, and B. N. Klante, 29, were identified as the victims.

3 BULLETS FOR HER

Clad in bathing suits, the bodies rested side by side in front of the cottage the couple had rented Saturday night.

Across the man's knee was a .22-caliber rifle. Clutched in the girl's right hand was a box of cartridges. Nearby were empty bottles, indicating to authorities that the suicide plotters carried liquor with them for final fortification.

The young woman was shot three times, twice in the leg and once in the head. A single shot had ended the man's life.

HER LETTERS CHECKED

Mrs. Weed's husband was socially prominent Harvey Weed, Jr., son of Mrs. Harvey Weed of Stamford, Conn.

Her mother, Mrs. Neil B. McKenzie, in Boulder, Col., today could give no reason for the shooting of her daughter, from whom she received a "cheerful letter" only three days ago.

"In that, like in other frequent letters," Mrs. McKenzie said, "Juneau talked about her husband and discussed a new kind of medical treatment she had heard might relieve him of a nervous ailment from which he suffered."

Barber Jailed As Girl Killer; Kin to Aid Him

By JAMES F. McENANEY

Boston Evening American Staff Correspondent

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 12—Members of his family rallied to the defense of Herbert Willis Sprague, Kittery, Me., itinerant barber, today, as he was jailed without bail, charged with the murder of eight-year-old Barbara Driscoll.

Winfield Sprague, a brother of the accused man, said the latter had repudiated an alleged confession and had insisted he was innocent of the slaying.

"I don't believe Willis did this thing," the brother said. "Willis' 50-year-old mother will be a witness for him."

PRISONER NEAR COLLAPSE

Today's arraignment of the gaunt, owl-eyed defendant, was in Portsmouth's little municipal courtroom on the second floor of city hall.

Guarded by two officers, the prisoner was taken upstairs from the police station.

Haggard and unshaven, he appeared on the verge of collapse as he listened to the reading of the murder charge.

Tears began running down his cheeks when Clerk of Court Kenneth Junkins pronounced the name of Barbara Driscoll, the victim.

Asked what his plea was, Sprague said shakily but clearly: "I'm not guilty."

Although angered citizens of

WILLIS SPRAGUE

Portsmouth openly threatened last week to take the law into their own hands, should the little Driscoll girl's brutal slayer be found, there was no demonstration against Sprague today.

Postpone Graves Trial

As predicted exclusively by the Boston Evening American, the trial of Frederick H. Graves, charged with perjury in the Curley-Santosuosso case, today was indefinitely postponed.

Graves will not go to trial before the September 20 primaries.

Judge Frederick W. Fossick in Suffolk Superior Criminal Court issued a formal order revoking the order placing Graves' case on the trial calendar for September 13.

SEEK DEPOSITIONS

Bases for the order was the fact that interrogatories have been filed by Graves' attorneys, seeking the depositions of William J. Montgomery, vice-president of Ernest W. Brown, Inc. in New York, and Ralph L. Felle, manager of the Mayflower Hotel in Washington.

Assistant District Attorney Frederick T. Doyle stated he would file cross-interrogatories late this afternoon.

It is understood Doyle's cross-questions, directed against Montgomery, will contain "dynamite." Montgomery never testified in person in the Curley-Santosuosso case.

Graves testified in the Curley-Santosuosso case that he was acting for Montgomery, as vice-president Ernest W. Brown, Inc. in seeking a settlement of the General Equipment Corporation's claims for water damages against the city. Ernest W. Brown, Inc., it was brought out, had purchased the General Equipment Corporation's claim.

MET IN HOTEL LOBBY

Doyle, it is understood, intends to ask Montgomery about money received by Ernest W. Brown, Inc. in the settlement, and whether any payments were made to him personally or as an official of the company to anyone.

Graves, in the Curley-Santosuosso trial, asserted former Governor James K. Curley, then mayor of Boston, received $300,000. He met Curley in the lobby of the Mayflower Hotel in Washington and Curley asked him, "What is there in it for me?" he testified.

Folio is to be questioned concerning the hotel's records.

'Salt' Road Fund, Tobin Tells Council

Mayor Tobin told the Boston City Council today that he would like to leave intact the $1,194,000 of the state highway fund allotted to this city. The mayor had announced he would take $150,000 of the fund to rebuild the Albany, Berkeley and Boylston street bridges and leave the rest of the money to reduce next year's tax rate.

Today he asked instead to be allowed to borrow the $150,000 to match a federal Government contribution of $115,000.

62,000 Pupils Back at Desks In Hub District

Twenty-two thousand Cambridge school children, Governor Hurley's children among them, returned to school today after their ten-week vacation.

Solemn high masses ushered in the new school year at the city's two parochial high schools and seven grade schools.

Public School Superintendent Michael E. Fitzgerald estimated the total enrollment in the city's two high schools and 26 odd grammar schools at 15,500.

7900 BACK AT REVERE

High school enrollments, both public and parochial, it was stated, are about the same this year as last. Minor increases in enrollments were noted in the public and parochial grammar schools.

In Revere, 7900 pupils returned to their desks. There were many changes in Revere in the schools' personnel. Outstanding was the retirement of Miss Mary T. Roman, supervising principal, after 47 years' service.

Lynn sent 15,000 schoolboys and girls back to school, about half of them to the junior and senior high schools there. Two new school buildings are under construction in Lynn, one at Elm and Warren streets, the other at Nahant and Broad streets.

BROOKLINE OPENS SCHOOL

Nahant sent 65 students to Lynn Classical and Lynn English High schools. In Nahant itself, classes were resumed in Valley Road Junior High school and the J. T. Wilton grammar school.

Newton schools also reopened today with a total enrollment of 11,000.

Brookline opened its new, $400,000 high school. Total enrollment in the Brookline schools was 6300.

Brookline Furrier Put on Probation

Frank Nadel, 55, of Brookline, formerly of Newton, a furrier, was placed on probation for two years by Judge Frederick W. Fossick in Suffolk Superior Criminal court today after pleading guilty to larceny of seven fur coats valued at a total of $398.

Nadel, it was brought out, received the coats on consignment from a New York firm. He sold them, it was charged, but did not send the money due them to the New York fur house. He will make restitution, he promised Judge Fossick in court today.

Tobin Asks $10,000 For Tax Pay Roll

Mayor Tobin today asked the City Council to transfer $10,000 to the city collector's office from the contingent fund to pay extra help that would be needed in the office when the rush to pay taxes begins.

This week the city will advertise for tax bids.

Delay Ruling On Hines Plea

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (INS).—Court was late getting under way today at the trial of Tammany Leader James J. Hines as Judge Ferdinand Pecora pondered the decision he was to make on the defense motion for a mistrial.

An hour after the scheduled opening of the fifth week of the trial, Judge Pecora had not ascended the bench. He remained in his chambers consulting legal authorities and considering memorandum submitted to him on the motion by counsel for both sides.

At noon the clerk of court suddenly announced: "Court is adjourned until 2 p. m."

Aged Mother to Aid Barber Held in Murder authorities took elaborate precautions to safeguard the defendant.

UNDER HEAVY GUARD

After he had been held without bail and ordered taken to Rockingham county jail, the crowded courtroom was cleared by deputy sheriffs.

Only when all spectators were out of the building was Sprague led down stairs.

An automobile guarded by local and state police was used to transfer him the scant 100 yards to the jail building.

There a special guard was assigned to watch his cell. Because of his apparently depressed mental state, officials feared he might attempt suicide.

As required by state law, he will be examined for symptoms of insanity, probably being placed under observation at Concord State Hospital.

In court, Sprague wore the metal rimmed glasses which give him eyes their curious owl-like look.

Everything found in his possession, except the spectacles, had been taken from him by police.

His clothing was being subjected to chemical analysis today, to determine if stains on several of his garments were caused by human blood.

The dark trousers and white shirt he wore at the time of his arraignment were hand-me-downs, given him by police.

Winfield Sprague was present at the arraignment. He told newspapermen:

"My mother, Mrs. Cora Contis, says Willis was at her home in Portland Labor Day morning, a few hours after the Driscoll girl was killed."

"That morning my mother gave Willis the coat he was wearing when he was arrested."

"She's sure about the time and about the coat. She took the coat out of mothballs."

"If police found any bloodstains on that coat, they couldn't have been Barbara Driscoll's blood."

"When I asked my brother today what this trouble he was in was all about, he said he was innocent and would tell the whole story at the proper time."

2 Beauties in Tiff Seek 'Miss America' Crown

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 12 (INS).—There may be two "Miss America's" soon touring the United States, it appears today.

Marilyn Mesek, 21-year-old girl from Marion, O., who was chosen "Miss America 1938" at the annual Atlantic City beauty pageant, was crowned and crowned again in a three-hour grind of picture posing, then began a week's appearance on the Steel Pier.

But Claire James, 19-year-old Los Angeles girl who came here as "Miss California" and was given second place, was to be crowned "Miss America" in the grand ball room of the Hotel Astor, New York.

Earl Carroll and Nils T. Grandlund, producers who rebelled at the choice of "Miss Ohio," arranged the "Miss California" crowning.

Carroll let loose a blast here, declaring that the pageant judges were incompetent and "they should have more young people, maybe jitterbugs."

"Miss California" declined the offered engagement and left for New York with her franchise holder and manager, Harvey Walters, of Venice, Cal., and her mother, Mrs. C. S. James.

FLYING PRIEST—The Rev. Paul Schulte, famous flying priest of the Arctic, arrives in Boston today to arrange lecture tour.

Arctic Priest Finds Flying Easy Here

Father Paul Schulte, O. M. I., famed Arctic flying priest who lives in danger of his life every day, finds flying around the United States "a picnic."

"I had to laugh out loud up there in the clouds, coming into Boston. Why, it was a picnic! Flying 7000 feet high and guided by a radio beam," he said.

Father Schulte is spending a few days in Boston, visiting at St. Mary's Church, Brookline, preparing a lecture tour for this winter.

"Up north I fly 'in the first floor.' Which means seldom do I reach as high as 2000 feet. And the fog is practically impenetrable, while often there is no such thing as a wireless station. And if something does happen who is going to help you?"

Father Schulte is founder of the Missionaries International Vehicular Association. It is a motorized mission and the pilot priest is pioneer.

Father Schulte covers one million and a half square miles of frozen Arctic wastes, carrying food, mail, and medical aid to settlements hundreds of miles apart.

Speaking of his work among the Eskimos, Father Schulte said: "The Eskimos are very clever. I took one up for a ride in my plane the other day. I asked him how he liked it. He replied: 'Oh, Father, I was looking for deer.' You see, the Eskimo is always the hunter. He took the plane for granted."

DON'T LET TENSION "GET" YOUR NERVES!

COLLIE

Rough-coated Collie's ancestry is as old as sheep-herding itself. Name from Anglo-Saxon "coll" meaning black. Scotch called them "colley dogs" after the black-faced "colley" sheep they tended. One of first pure-bred dogs imported to America. Noted for acute hearing, extraordinary homing sense, devotion to duty.

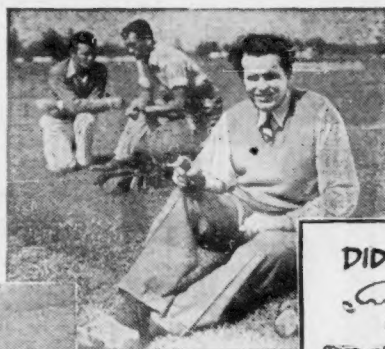

THIS Collie dog has a nervous system that is remarkably similar to yours. Like yours it is delicate, complicated. But the dog can spring into flashing action—and then relax. While man's nature makes him unkind to his nerves. All too often, we work too hard, worry too much, are fatigued or sleepless from strain. Nerves cry for rest, but we do not hear. Don't let tension "get" your nerves. Give your nerves a frequent rest—a soothing breathing spell—take time for a Camel. Camels help you to remember that you need a brief bit of leisure, for they are mild and mellow, a supremely enjoyable cigarette, made from costlier tobaccos. Smokers find that "Let up—light up a Camel" puts more joy into living, and that Camel's costlier tobaccos are mild and soothing to their nerves.

He's giving his

There's more joy in living when you "Let up—light up a Camel"

RALPH GULDAHL (right), U. S. Open golf champion, reveals an "inside" story. "I've learned to ease up now and again—to take time for a Camel. The little breaks in daily nerve tension help keep a fellow on top. Smoking a Camel gives me a grand feeling of well-being. Here is a cigarette that is actually soothing to my nerves!"

"IN MY STRENUOUS DAY," says Miss Ollie Tucker (left), office manager, "I can't afford to get nervously upset. My method is to let up, and light up a Camel. It's a grand way to smooth out tense nerves. I smoke Camels a lot. They're so mild and flavory. Camels are soothing to my nerves. My friends who seem always at ease prefer Camels."

DID YOU KNOW?

—that there are 26 different types of American-grown tobacco, by U. S. government standards, and of course, great variations in quality? That from the time the tobacco seedlings are first planted, Camel buyers study soil conditions, weather, local curing methods! They know where the choice grades are. It is a recognized fact in the tobacco trade that Camels are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic.

Coolidge Aids Russell Drive

By ALFRED D. WHELTON

Ending two years of political retirement, former United States Senator Marcus A. Coolidge, Fitchburg, today announced endorsement of Richard W. Russell as Democratic candidate for governor.

The move was seen in political circles not only as another endorsement of Russell by proponents of President Roosevelt's New Deal policies but also as a thrust at former Governor James M. Curley, who sought unsuccessfully to fill the Senate seat left vacant by Coolidge with retirement in 1936.

Coolidge is scheduled to speak on his endorsement of Russell to-night at 8 o'clock over radio station WNAC.

Beneath the short announcement lies an interesting political story dating back to 1936 when Senator Coolidge was referred to by Curley as an "affable old gentleman."

PARTY HARMONY

The former governor, now a candidate against Russell, Governor Charles F. Hurley and Lieutenant-Governor Francis E. Kelly, had announced his candidacy for the Coolidge seat. A short time later, Senator Coolidge announced his retirement, stating it was in the interest of party harmony.

His present endorsement of Russell appeared, therefore, to be a thrust at Curley as well as an additional New Dealer on the Russell bandwagon.

Curley devoted most of his week-end oratory on the lieutenant-governor, although he took some time to again blast the administration of Governor Hurley.

The veteran campaigner struck a bit of a snag, however, when the lieutenant-governor scored Curley in the "personality contest" between the two. It centered around a reference by Curley to Kelly's mother as "the Mother Machree," who is always introduced at Kelly rallies.

"After engaging in the type of discussion of personalities which has distinguished his political career during the past 46 years, Curley took occasion to assail me for introducing 'Mother Machree,' as he chose to term my mother," the Kelly statement said.

"In common with all mothers, my mother takes pride in whatever success is achieved by her children. It is only natural, therefore, that she should take keen interest in the current campaign. It is regretted that she who has been both mother and father to me since I was a small boy has become a factor in this contest."

On campaign issues, Kelly charged the State Department of Public Utilities, of which Curley's brother is a member, has "unconditionally surrendered to the power trusts and is now controlled by them."

Former Governor Curley labelled Lieutenant-Governor Kelly as a "hatchet man" who is attempting to force him into a discussion of personalities rather than issues.

He charged that Kelly lies about attendance at his rallies nightly; lies about reputed donations of billboards to Curley; lies when he charges that Curley is not a friend of the poor and lies about his public record.

Curley addressed one of the largest gatherings of his campaign so far at Riverview Ballroom in Dorchester and tonight is scheduled at the state armory in Salem; Peabody City Hall; Odd Fellows Hall in Lynn, and at Malden High school.

Governor Hurley based his content for renomination on the premise that his opponents are "three men whose political weakness has been clearly demonstrated."

"In a futile attempt to divert attention from their own lack of appeal to the voters they have assailed my record, questioned my motives, indulged in the most fantastic claims and made the most fantastic promises," he stated at a rally in John Hancock Hall, Back Bay.

Republican candidates for governor were comparatively quiet, Leverett Saltonstall of Newton reiterating his pledge that he would restore confidence in the government by giving the state an honest and efficient administration.

Richard Whitcomb warned the party must first clean house of its "self-appointed leaders" before it can hope for victory.

Frederick Butler of Andover continued his quest for nomination on the ground that the party needs a veteran campaigner who is not tied down by "interests."

Meanwhile, Leverett Saltonstall, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, was predicting that there would be wholesale desertions from the Democratic ranks to the Republican banner in the November elections.

"Many persons have informed me throughout the state," he declared, "that although they had voted the straight Democratic ticket for years they would vote Republican this fall in protest against the administration on Beacon Hill."

"We will win this fall and restore the confidence of the people in state government."

City Councillor Robert Gardiner Wilson, Jr., Republican candidate for lieutenant-governor, today scored the federal housing projects as "leeches" weighing around "the necks of taxpayers."

"Taxpayers and property owners certainly must realize by now that they will receive no consideration from the Democratic administration," he said.

Kenneth D. Johnson, Republican candidate for lieutenant-governor, told members of the Women's Republican Club at a luncheon today that experience as commissioner of administration and finance under three Democratic governors was no reason for election as lieutenant-governor.

It obviously was a thrust at the candidacy of Charles P. Howard of Reading, one of Johnson's opponents, who served 12 years as finance commissioner.

Johnson, former judge of Quincy court, also stressed the need for "something tangible" in the way of care for juvenile delinquents.

Gallagher Maps Rally Drive

Answering charges of "hypocrisy" flung at him by District Attorney William J. Foley, Owen Gallagher, principal opponent of the Suffolk County prosecutor, today mapped out a series of rallies throughout the county for the final week of the campaign.

Foley invaded Gallagher's home sector by hurling the "hypocrisy" charges at an outing of the Ward 17 Democratic Club, of which Gallagher is a member.

He charged that Gallagher extolled the probation officers and they voted against restoration of the pay cuts they were forced to take in 1934.

Gallagher charged Foley has not handled juvenile cases properly in superior court.

Bar Strong Boy Just a Woman

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (INS)—Johnnie (Strong Boy) Nolan, for 35 years a feared contender for fistful honors in the bars around the Borough Hall section of Brooklyn, was stripped of his secret today.

"Johnnie" is a woman.

Doctors at Kings County Hospital discovered it after "he" had been admitted early this morning for treatment of a fractured nose, broken in a fall down a flight of stairs at 181 Court street, where "he" lived.

"Johnnie" was dressed as a man, as "he" has been for 35 years. "He" is about 60 now.

In recent years "he" has been superintendent of the building in which "he" lives. "He" was also known for flattening argumentative bar flies.

Koppleman May Quit Race

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 12 (INS)—With the Democratic State Convention at Eastern Point two days away a possibility loomed today that Congressman Herman P. Koppleman, of Hartford, New Dealer, would withdraw his name from the race for nomination as United States Senator.

The possibility was expressed by observers, who pointed to the claim of headquarters of United States Senator Augustine Lonergan, conservative Democrat seeking re-nomination, who said the incumbent was assured of 1000 of the 1100 delegates to the state convention.

Machines Slow Maryland Vote

BAITIMORE, Sept. 12 (INS)—Under cloudy skies which spit intermittent rain squalls, Maryland voters went to the polls in large numbers today to decide the bitterest primary election in the Free State's history.

It was New Deal voters and their machines which were the main cause of the delay in attempting to "purge" Senator Millard E. Tydings through the nomination of Rep. David J. Lewis, 69-year-old liberal. For the first time in the 47 years, polling places were equipped with voting machines and the unfamiliarity of many voters with these devices slowed the balloting.

Within an hour five of the machines were reported broken out of adjustment.

There were some reports of sabotage but most machines were able to go into operation after a few minutes' delay.

At 10 o'clock, the polls were closed and the machines were taken to the polls to be repaired.

Boston After Dark

BY GEORGE HOLLAND

MONDAY MORNING MUSINGS:

The hand of the Law is too quick frequently for the vaulted lynx-like eye of the Press . . . And so it happened not very many days ago a few blocks distant from this office . . . You did not read this story in the papers . . . Nor will you read names and particulars in this space today . . . Yet it might be a lesson to the clever chaps who shush-shushed the story if the column cracked down with all 42 keys of the typewriter . . .

GEORGE HOLLAND

But it won't—for two reasons . . . The first is that the minor members of the deceased man's family should be spared the burden of shame being heaped on that of their sorrow . . . The other is that a very respected arm of the Law would certainly lose some caste—which it doesn't deserve, either . . .

Not many months ago, the Boston underworld was muttering about injustice . . . "Wrong rap," they call it in the movies—and "bum fall" (if they aim to be realistic in their dialogues is what they mean . . . The case was a roundup of New York and Boston malefactors, assertedly working together . . . There were numerous convictions, and there were thieves and thugs who rejoiced along with the police when heavy sentences were passed on a variety of real rats . . . But one of the convictions aroused resentment among the "boys" . . .

Well, the turf has not had a chance to grow above the remains of an important witness for the prosecution . . . It was his death, and its circumstances, that you did not read about in the papers . . . When the case was being tried, this witness was parading a path between the courtroom and a phone booth . . . At half-hour intervals during the afternoon sessions . . . He was betting horses . . . Your reporter is not sure about this, but the report has it that the defendant the underworld thinks was "framed" had an "end," or interest, in the very bookmaking house which was taking the play of the witness for the prosecution . . . At any rate, this particular defendant had a piece of some luck . . . Bookmaking is lawbreaking to be sure, but it is not the nefarious and despised crime for which the defendant was being tried . . .

The witness for the prosecution is dead . . . An overdose of some strong drug was the cause . . . I should like to see the death certificate in the case . . . It probably reads that the potion was administered innocently . . . But as surely as if the dose was taken with lethal intent, the witness for the prosecution is a victim of his crime for the name . . . He may have taken the drug for the sole purpose of inducing sleep . . . To forget his financial worries for a while . . .

His superiors had known of his weakness for gambling, and were fearful of trouble ahead . . . But his excellent work in presenting "evidence" in the case of the New York-Boston gang—and one defendant in particular, won him temporary good graces . . . And here's the zing of the story, although your reporter heard no names and could not identify his informer . . . For months the deceased witness for the prosecution has been steered, or "touted," in his horse play by a couple of "experts" . . . They didn't do very well with him, financially, because they seemed unable to pick winners and benefice "touts" collect only when their clients win . . . Personally your reporter is disinclined to credit the bad boys of the town with the ability to think up such an insidious means of revenge . . . But in some circles they are saying that sympathizers of a defendant jailed by the courts certainly were the ones guiding his horse play . . . They could certainly pass off "stiffs" . . .

Once Over Lightly:

John Steel, the Ziegfeld tenor who first sang "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody," will follow Eddie Leonard, the "original minstrel man," to the Crawford House . . . Boston has a new weekly sports sheet, "Sport Angle" . . . Mr. Roosevelt's Mr. Cohen resembles the late Irving Thalberg, first genius of the fillums . . . Boston friends are awaiting anxiously for reports from the Mayo hospital on James Roosevelt's operation . . . Brothers Franklin D. and John Roosevelt were together Saturday night at the Ritz—a pair of very worried birds . . . This figure's good friend, Frank Smoot, who was married last night, released the answers to the presser the wrong way, and took the vows practically ad lib . . .

Goering Suffers Gland Malady, Ordered to Bed

BERLIN, Sept. 12 (AP)—It was officially announced today that Reich Marshal Hermann Goering, commander of the Luftwaffe, had been ordered to bed because of a "gland malady."

The absence of the No. 2 Nazi from the last night's military display on Zeppelinfeld was noted and at 10:30 p. m. it was reported he was confined to bed in the hotel where the Führer was preparing to deliver his speech on which may hang the fate of Europe. But a doctor in a communique announced "Reich Marshal Goering has contracted inflammation of the lymphatic glands in the right leg. In addition he has catarrh of the throat. His feverish condition demands several days of absolute rest in bed."

Goering's absence from the end of yesterday's strenuous participation in the last annual rally of the Nazi party was noted by the press. It was reported that the Führer had been in the hospital since the night of the 10th.

Hitler was surrounded by deeper secrecy than ever as he worked in the address. Even cabinet members who ordinarily are ready to give an inkling of the events are taking made it plain they had the strictest orders to observe silence.

Hitler was said to be keeping close to the door of the hospital in Goebbels' house, was expected to make his next appearance as Reich Marshal tomorrow.

Dr. Goebbels, Reich Minister of Propaganda, was reported to have been in the hospital since the night of the 10th.

War Is 50-50 Bet in London

LONDON, Sept. 12 (INS)—Odds are now 50-50 on the possibility of Europe being plunged into a general conflict in the near future over Czechoslovakia.

Such was the belief of financial London as well as best-informed diplomatic quarters today as the British cabinet assembled in extraordinary session to await with grave anxiety the words of Adolf Hitler.

The city's London financial section, considered it a 2 to 1 chance that Hitler would demand a plebiscite in the Sudeten areas of Czechoslovakia.

Seyburn Bridal Elaborate Event

By BETTY ALDEN

THE BRIDAL has seldom been such a gathering of Newporters. The guests and members of New York's "Pony Society" were in Boston as was assembled in Massachusetts for Pony Society's wedding in Beacon Hill, Sept. 10.

After the ceremony in the Episcopal church, which was planned to the doors, everybody walked over to the Seyburn residence, some thirty yards down the road, where the reception turned out to be such a joyful and enjoyable affair that no one even thought of leaving until late in the evening, with a full moon rising over Singing Beach, that Peggy and Eddie finally made their traditional dash through showers of confetti to the Seyburn limousine which took them into Boston to catch the train for Hot Springs.

Late in the evening was one wedding where the well had pains, which, inside a car of ushers pushing the car with motor already running slipped a bit, and the newlyweds had to stand in a degree of comfort and rose petals for fully five minutes while the car was driven up and their luggage stored in the back.

Eddie Seyburn, one of the bridesmaids, sobbed and dabbed the tears out of her eyes as her sister drove away, unobserved even by the fact that she caught the bridal bouquet. . . . Prince Serge Obolensky, who is famous for his demonstrations of the newly popular Lambeth Walk, did his best to cheer her up and later took her off to dinner with Beverly Bogert, one of the prominent Newporters who came up with his wife and family for the wedding.

The church was so small there was no ante room in which the bridesmaids could wait before the ceremony, so Eddie stood out on the lawn and received the congratulations of all his friends as they arrived, and gave last minute instructions to his ushers.

Guests Wear Costly Furs in Evening

MR. AND MRS. ROGER W. CUTLER arrived at the ceremony with the Dudley Pickmans, and later joined Mrs. Cutler's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cushing of Newport. . . . The latter looked like an illustration in a fashion magazine in a beautifully tailored black wool dress, cranberry red turban with much black veil and a huge pocketbook of the same red.

As the cool evening breezes blew in from the ocean, most of the feminine guests made a hasty trip out to their cars to don silver fox capes, short sable coats and other costly furs. . . . Mrs. Huntington Hartford 2d wore a magnificent short mink jacket over a quince blue dress, and Mrs. Bradford Norman, Jr., another fashionable young Newporter, donned a luxurious beige coat with lynx collar over her plain white dress which was brightened by touches of fuchsia and a tiny lacy veil which covered her hair and veiled around her throat. . . . Her husband, who was one of the ushers, gave his friends a bit of diversion after the bride and groom departed, when he climbed into the back seat of his knobby touring car and proceeded to change from his formal cowboy into a business suit. . . . One of his friends happened to catch a glimpse of bare leg and blue shorts, immediately grabbed the limousine from the parking announcer and called everyone within earshot to come over and peer into Brad's impromptu dressing room. . . . Mrs. Athol Hall Meyer, Mrs. Gordon Douglas and Mrs. T. Dennis Boardman were a few who enjoyed kidding Brad about his informality.

Novelties At Casino Party

Those who ride to hounds often carry two small leather cases attached to their saddles, one holding a couple of sandwiches and the other a flask of brandy, so they can enjoy a bit of sustenance and refreshment during a hunt.

James Parker, 24, carried out two such cases as he participated in the Musical Steeplechase, held at the Casino in Magnolia. He carried a tall, slender highball glass in the breast pocket of his gray jacket so he could refresh himself as he made his leisurely way around the various obstacles in the steeplechase course.

The various jockeys in the steeplechase tried to guess the names of some paws by Sammy and the jacks. Easy time they were given. They mixed up a couple of the field in several cases. . . . Mrs. Margaret M. and Mrs. William B. Lutz Koller, Dorothy Preston, William Keville, Patricia Horowitz and Mrs. Samuel Batchelder.

Kelly Auto Myste-ree? So What?

Just where a wandering limousine reputedly with "33" plates, was around midnight is a matter of much concern today to Lieut.-Gov. Francis E. Kelly, who owns the car; to Sergt. John W. Stanton, who generally drives it; to Andover police, who tried to stop it, and to Registrar Frank A. Goodwin, who is curious.

Patrolman William Stewart tried to stop a car he said bore those plates as it sped through Shawheen Village. He phoned ahead to Patrolman George Waldie in Andover square, but the car went on. Both said it was the "33" car.

"It couldn't have been," the lieutenant-governor said today. "Where's Andover?" Sergt. Stanton asked. "It certainly wasn't me."

1100 Firms Join Sales-Jobs Drive In Second Week

More than 1100 business firms have enrolled in the "Sales Mean Jobs" crusade as it entered the second week today, according to the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

Approximately 80,000 "Sales Mean Jobs" buttons have been distributed in the metropolitan area and firms handling house-to-house merchandise, said demonstrations are easier to give because the buttons are often "open sesame" to homes.

The Cambridge Industrial Union entered the campaign today with a large meeting at which presided E. C. Johnson, chairman of the Boston Sales Bureau.

HARISON TO REPORT

The businessmen of Cambridge and of Fall River reported to the Boston Sales Bureau.

At a meeting of the Boston Sales Bureau, Johnson revealed that the businessmen of Pittsburgh wired him today, asking for complete details of the local campaign. A. H. Hager, chairman of the Boston Sales Bureau, said that the businessmen of Pittsburgh had reported that they had received a letter from the Boston Sales Bureau, asking for complete details of the local campaign.

Writing Reveals Complexes

By HELEN PAYNE

(Handwriting, Psychologist)
Who I am inferior?
Three out of four have feelings of inferiority, inadequacy, inadequacy.

It is not necessary to keep on feeling inferior of course, but most of us do.

Furthermore, your handwriting does reveal to a great extent your inferiority, and so on.

Now I do not mean to say that does really show all of your complex, but handwriting is mindwriting, and if you place on paper your mind through your handwriting, we have a great deal to work on. I am referring especially to the Graphologist—or handwriting analysis expert.

At any rate, anyone annoyed by feeling of inferiority has the comfort that he or she is in the company of distinguished persons.

Thomas T. Watson says: "Confidence never smiles again upon the man, big or little, who has been beaten at all points."

So evidently determination is the remedy. Energy, activity, firmness and resistance, when properly balanced and directed by the senses give a person a great nation. These four elements form the skeleton and superstructure of the will.

You may have much determination without much judgment to direct it, in which case you are heading for a blind alley. But the higher the mind, the more why will these elements be controlled, developed and expressed.

Stagehand Against Wilson Suggests
Admiral, 'Biscuit' Big Race

By JACK CONWAY

ON THE WAY to Rockingham Park today, Dave Wilson asked why a match race between Stagehand, War Admiral and Seabiscuit isn't in order.

Mr. Boston

"Stagehand proved a great horse in winning the Santa Anita Handicap, the Narragansett Special and the Governor's Handicap," said Dave. "Sure, War Admiral and Seabiscuit are older horses, but it isn't any cinch that they can beat the Earl Sande trained thoroughbred."

As a rule, I don't like match races. This is particularly true when there are only two horses in the race, but if I could be guaranteed that War Admiral, Seabiscuit and Stagehand were to clash I would not miss the affair no matter where it was held.

Stagehand won from Seabiscuit by a nose in a photo finish in the Santa Anita Handicap, but had a big pull in the weights.

In a match race, War Admiral would probably set the early pace, and then Seabiscuit and Stagehand would come on to fight it out for top honors with Samuel Riddle's horse in the battle through the stretch.

In such a clash, New England race goers would root for Stagehand on account of the great popularity of Earl Sande in this section of the country.

As we looked towards Rockingham Park, there was also talk of War Admiral and Seabiscuit meeting in a special match race in the fall. Samuel Riddle would like to see the contest staged during the Maryland racing season.

Seabiscuit has been brought from the Coast to Chicago by Charles R. Howard, and will be a starter in the Gold Cup race on Saturday afternoon. Howard is a smart horseman, and has been dropping his great handicap horse into spots where the competition has not been too keen.

Many Rich Purses This Year

WITH SO many tracks in operation, Seabiscuit, War Admiral and Stagehand have been able to find races where they could battle for high stakes without too much danger of meeting with defeat.

Stagehand displayed amazing form as he won the Governor's Handicap by six lengths at the final day of racing at Narragansett Park. His time of 1:49 2-5s. for the one mile and a furlong distance cracked the track record of Time Supply by a fifth of a second. If Stagehand had been pressed in the run through the stretch, he would have gone at least two-fifths of a second faster.

Jockey Jackie Westrop was looking over his shoulder laughing at the field as Stagehand breezed past the grandstand.

Maxwell Howard, owner of Stagehand, was delighted by the splendid treatment he received while in New England. Howard, an invalid, watched the running of the Narragansett Special and the Governor's Handicap from his auto which was parked close to the rail near the start of both races.

When presented with a floral horseshoe after the winning of Saturday's race, Howard gave most of the flowers to ladies who crowded around his car seeking souvenirs of Stagehand's victory.

Football Forces Way Out Front

RACING and baseball will be forced to share the sports stage with football this week. In addition to the large number of college and schoolboy elevens which have started their practice sessions, the Shamrocks will open their season against the College All-Stars in a game under the floodlights at Fenway Park on Wednesday night.

George Kenneally has a powerful, experienced club and expects to make a creditable showing this season. Many of the members of the All-Stars competed in the New York game against the Giants, and are prepared to step on high once the whistle sounds for the opening of Wednesday night's tilt.

Night football, like night baseball, has come to stay, and will help to keep the promoters out of the red.

Random Shots at Target

CHARLEY McLENNAN is the No. 1 man for the post of Racing Secretary at Suffolk Downs next season. . . . Racing Secretary at Hialeah Park, in Maryland and in Chicago, McLENNAN is considered the chief rival of Jack Campbell, New York's ace Racing Secretary. . . . Charley was Racing Secretary for a short period at Suffolk Downs, but was obliged to give up the post on account of conflicting engagements.

"The best race meeting ever held in New England," was Lou Smith's tribute to the 36-day meeting that closed at Narragansett Park on Saturday.

Coming as it did from the boss of a rival track, Judge James E. Donley has reason to be pleased at this statement. . . . Narragansett had an abundance of top horses. . . . The ordinary run of horses didn't have much of an opportunity to win purses at the Rhode Island track. I met Tenney Gilligan, former Harvard backfield star, and he tells me Dick Harlow should have a powerful eleven at Cambridge this year. . . . Gilligan, like other former Harvard gridiron heroes, considers Harlow one of the greatest football coaches in the country. . . . Al McCoy and "Tiger" Warren have been signed for a ten-round bout in Montreal for September 20.

School Football Opens

Three Clashes On Tap for This Week

It's pre-a-way week for Greater Boston schoolboy football elevens this week.

They will not only launch the 38 gridiron season at one of the earliest starts on record, but also get the jump on the college teams who do not make their bows until the following week.

Bill Sartorelli

A glance at the schedule shows three contests that loom as naturals will be decided under the arc lights before the full swing of gridiron armor clash opens place on Saturday.

On Thursday evening, Coach Frank Gary's Chelsea Red Devils will pry off the lid with Dedham high who are making their first bid at big time football.

The game will take place on Chelsea's beautiful scenic Memorial Stadium and from the pre-season chatter around there these autumnal days, its largest opening day crowd is expected to be on hand at the opening whistle. A thing not to be sneezed at is that the Red Devils, with Johnny Grigas and Bill Sartorelli as co-captains, will field one of the strongest and hottest elevens on the schoolboy frontier this fall.

PEABODY FAVORIT

The following night, Coach Bill Seegitz's Peabody troupe, another strong pre-season favorite, invades Manning Bowl in Lynn to battle with the average Lynn Classical eleven.

Unless nothing short of a miracle takes place, Peabody will run rough-shod over the beach boys.

The other night engagement will bring together Cambridge Latin and Somerville. In the past, these two rivals have always put up a whole of a battle and this coming game will be no exception.

And on Saturday, the grand parade will almost be in full swing.

Leading this parade will be the intercollegiate invasion of the Fort Arthur, Texas, yellow jackets into Marlborough.

Record Squad For N. U. Frosh

While Coach Jimmy Dunn of Northeastern mounds his varsity eleven, Harold Kopp, his line coach, is working with the largest group of candidates for the freshman squad ever to report at Huntington Field, Brookline.

One hundred and eighteen freshmen, including several former high school sensations, stormed the Husky clubhouse last Saturday in answer to Kopp's call.

Out of the group, Kopp not only expects to shape a winning club, but to find also valuable reserves for Dunn's varsity next year. For the last two years Northeastern freshmen teams have been so poor that Dunn has practically received no help from them.

Among those who reported to Kopp were three ex-Malden high stars. Out for end is Chesley Noel, while Phil Sheridan and Colchines are listed with the tackles and guards.

Other prominent freshmen include Ernie Colantonio of Newton, Lou Engber and Tom Evans of Chelsea, Able Wingard of Boston English and John Kuffe of New Brunswick.

McCarthy, Leslie Out B's Rookie Wins Stengel

Neither the New York nor Philadelphia clubs were nice to our Bees and Red Sox during the last week. The Bees were flinted on three straight days by the Giants and then the best they could do was to break even with the lowly Phillies. In the main, the pitchers were responsible for the failure of the Bees to win more than two out of seven on the last trip. Of course, at times, far too many, in fact, the defense crumbled which might have been due to the type of hurling it was trying to protect. . . . With the National Amateur at Oakland and the Pennsylvania Women's State Championship at the Pittsburgh Field Club, the Smoky City will be overhauled by next Saturday, Charles "Chief" Bender, the old Athletics' pitcher, is coaching the Phila sandleers, who're playing the Phillies today at Shibe Park. Boney growths on the elbows of pitchers are cropping out like miniature golf courses did a few years back. It has become a fad, which will ruin more pitchers than operations will cure. . . . "Top" Warner, the Temple coach, believes that George Honeschick, his new full back compares favorably with Dave Samukler. . . . Jimmy Fox will attend the annual banquet of the Bi-State League September 27 at Philadelphia, N. J. . . . Debe Garms has never had a "Charlie Horse". . . . Jimmy Adamick, who is scheduled to meet John Henry Lewis next Thursday in Philly, has gone Hollywood. He's wearing dark glasses because one of his sparring partners hung a "shiner" on his left optic.

Bob Quinn

Head Coach George Munger of the University of Pennsylvania is so set upon perfect timing for his Red and Blue varsity that he has a metronome with him at Hershey, Pa. As the sound box ticks away, the squad, grouped around the instrument, counts off. . . . The idea is to teach each player the proper pause between leads and the real meaning of timing. . . .

Johanny McCarthy and Sambo Leslie will walk the giant gangplank this winter, if Terry can dig up a club that's willing to trade. . . . Jack Doyle, the New York betting commissioner, quoted the Cincinnati Reds as 49 to 1 shot to win the National League Pennant. He has a trunk filled with twenty dollar bills and if the Reds crash through he'll have to pay a cool $200 for each and every one. . . . Was "Chickie" Maloney, the Concord High School shortstop that Bob Quinn allowed to make the trip to New York and Philadelphia a jinx? After the Bees had blown four in a row, George Kelly shoed Maloney off the bench and the Stengeleers came up with a win. Then following that 11 to 2 thing yesterday, Maloney ducked into the dressing room and climbed into his street clothes and watched the second game from the press stand. Charlie "Butch" Satercliffe established himself with Casey Stengel yesterday, when he tore after Del Young when the Phillies' shortstop took a punch at him. Incidentally, that chunky little Fall River boy can take care of himself. It's a crying shame that the Bees haven't a few more players with Satercliffe fines. GRIMES.

FOOT ITCH ATHLETE'S FOOT

Send Coupon Don't Pay Until Relieved

According to the Government Health Bulletin No. 228, at least 50% of the adult population of the United States are being attacked by the disease known as Athlete's Foot.

Usually the disease starts between the toes. Little watery blisters form, and the skin cracks and peels. After a while, the itching becomes intense, and you feel as though you would like to scratch off all the skin.

Beware of It Spreading Often the disease travels all over the bottom of the foot. The soles of your feet become red and swollen. The skin also cracks and peels, and the itching becomes worse and worse.

Get rid of this disease as quickly as possible, because it is very contagious, and it may go to your hands or even to the under arm or crotch of the legs.

Most people who have Athlete's Foot have tried all kinds of remedies to cure it without success. Ordinary remedies, antiseptics, salves or ointments seldom do any good.

Here's How to Treat It

The germ that causes the disease is known as Trichophyton. It buries itself deep in the tissues of the skin and is very hard to kill. A test made shows it takes 28 months of boiling to kill the germ; so you can see why the ordinary remedies are unsuccessful.

H. F. was developed solely for the purpose of treating Athlete's Foot. It is a liquid that penetrates and dries quickly. You just paint the affected parts. It peels off the cause of the skin where the germ breeds.

Reckless Steps Immediately

As soon as you apply H. F. you will find that the itching is immediately relieved. You should paint the infected part with H. F. night and morning until your feet are well. Usually this takes from three to six days, although in severe cases it may take longer or in some cases less time.

H. F. will leave the skin soft and smooth. You will marvel at the quick way it brings you relief, especially if you are one of those who have tried for years to get rid of Athlete's Foot without success.

H. F. Sent Out Free Trial

Sign and mail the coupon, and a bottle of H. F. will be mailed you immediately. Don't send any money and don't pay the postman any money; don't pay anything any time unless H. F. is helping you. King Dave closed the Narragansett meeting in a blaze of glory, picking five winners on the final day. Jessie V. L., $7.30; Distract, $6.40; Notas Sociales, $6.30; Stagehand, $2.90 and Black Grouse, $4.60.

Baugh Ready Again Sept. 25

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Dr. Michael Divitto, physician for the Washington Redskins professional football team, said today that Haliback Sammy Baugh should be able to play against Cleveland September 25.

Baugh was injured in the Redskins' game with the Philadelphia Eagles, but Dr. Divitto said today, the hurt was not so serious as believed at first.

He described the injury as "a slight separation between the left shoulder and collarbone."

Redskins Triumph Over Eagles, 26-23

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 11 (INS)—The Washington Redskins yesterday opened their 1938 professional football season with a hard won 26-23 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles at Municipal Stadium before a record crowd of 25,000.

Title Auto Races at Brockton

BROCKTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—International speed duels promised today to dominate the Brockton Fair National Circuit championship auto races Friday and Saturday as nationally-known dirt track races from five major circuits enrolled for the fair closing program.

Headed by Fred Frame, of Los Angeles, a former Brockton boy who won national renown when he captured the Indianapolis 500-mile classic in 1932 and later added to his laurels in numerous dirt track features, the field sparkles with outstanding contenders from virtually every section of the country.

Frame has entered his beautiful new Deussen racing creation for his first return to his boyhood home since 1933, when he dominated the Brockton Fair competition.

Rivalling the famous speedway star, Gus Schrader, of Cedar Rapids, Ia., world's dirt track titleholder the past five years, today signed to drive his $10,000 world's record holding Offenhauser-Miller speed motor. Schrader, making his first appearance on the Brockton oval, is currently leading the race for national dirt track honors. He holds 11 official world speed marks.

Upholding eastern speed laurels against invaders from the brick speedways, the flat half-mile loops of the middle-west, the Pacific coast, the spectacular banked tracks of Indiana and Ohio and the midwest racing circuits, Ben Shaw of Newark, N. J., 1937 eastern states champion, will lead a strong contingent of Atlantic seaboard stars, among them many crack New England pilots.

Deb Snyder of Akron, O., a hard riding "rim-rider" from the "saucer" ovals of Indiana and Ohio, famous nursery for such headliners as "Wild Bill" Cummings, Wilbur Shaw and others, will head the delegation from that sector.

From historic Ascot Speedway and other fast Pacific coast speed beds, Jimmy Miller, another Los Angeles petrol knight, will introduce the slam-bang west coast style of driving to Brockton thrill fans.

TWO MORE FOR HANK

DETROIT, Sept. 12 (AP)—The booming bat of Hank Greenberg spoke out yesterday as the Detroit Tigers took both ends of a double header from the Chicago White Sox. Greenberg hit his 48th and 49th home runs in the first game.

Joe DiMaggio polled 61 per cent of the votes to win the center field spot of that cereal company's popularity team. Earl Averill, who was second, drew only 12.

And Bill Dickey and Gabby Hartnett are running neck and neck for the catcher's job.

Brooklyn's new hero is Horace Hockett, a fly-chaser fresh up from Dayton. He used to carry the mail in the Auburn branch and could have landed with the Cards and White Sox before the Dodgers got him for nothing . . . Ben Ford, the South African secker, is thinking of coming over here to pick up a dollar or two on the heavy-weight market.

Peter Astra Favored in Futurity Trot

READING, Pa., Sept. 12 (AP)—Peter Astra, owned by Dr. H. M. Parrish, of Urbana, O., was favored to win the $2100 two-year-old futurity trot feature on today's opening card of the Grand Circuit meet at the Reading Fair Grounds.

Peter Astra, who won the Rainy Day Sweepstakes at North Randall, O., is one of nine trotters entered in the race. Two other top-ranking eligibles include Nibble Hanover, victor in the two-year-old trot at Toledo, O., and owned by Dunbar W. Bostwick, of New York, and Belmont Hanover, winner of the National State at Agawam, Mass., and owned by Homer D. Biery, of Butler, Pa.

The two-year-old trot is one of four futurities, worth an aggregate of $10,000, that will feature the week's program, recognized as one of the richest half-mile harness meets in the nation.

Caleb B. Bous, race secretary, announced that 26 trotters and pacers were eligible for the futurities.

Six starters will battle in the $2200 three-year-old pace Tuesday with The Widower, bay colt, bred by the Village Farms at Longhorne, Pa., and owned by William H. Featherington, of Rhineback, N. Y., the favorite.

Blackstone, undefeated two-year-old pacer, owned by Doc Farhall, made a field of six in the $1100 two-year-old pace, also to be run Wednesday.

Shotton Headed For Cards Post

By BILL CORUM

International Union of Professional Baseball Players

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (INS)—New York City, here I come, Right back where I started from!

Fordham Frankie Frisch, the hatless horseman of the Bronx, must be humming the above refrain today. As he rolls over the rails toward our town from five years of "exile" in that dear St. Lou.

St. Louis is a grand old city. Distinctive. Prosperous.

A careful check probably would disclose that it has been less hurt by depression and recession than any city of its size in the country. I like it because it's close to home. Frisch liked it, but it never would have been home to him.

So Frankie, let out as manager of St. Louis Cardinals, is on his way to Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, whether he knows it or not.

Yes, sir, he's a Flatbush flog now, for he's just as good as signed as pilot for the dashing Dodgers of 1939.

MACPHAIL THE BOSS

I'd be the last fellow in the world to "guess" Burleigh Grimes out of a job, and nobody knows it better than Burleigh Grimes.

I have said before, and say again now, that in my opinion Grimes has done a cracking good job of managing a haphazard team in Brooklyn this year.

I told Grimes that the other night when I saw him in Leone's restaurant and have since repeated it to Leland Stanford MacPhail.

But there's nothing in order to ignore than a fact, unless it's a punch in the nose, and Burleigh might as well send around to the Chinaman for his extra collar.

You see, the old square cut, and square, spitballer wasn't MacPhail's man in the first place. He was in the job before Larry came along to bathe Brooklyn in lights, and the effluence of his smile.

And when a man has a tough job, such as building up a team in Brooklyn, he's pretty certain to want his own man as straw boss.

Nobody can complain at MacPhail for that, and the lively Leland is smart enough to realize that Frisch has certain almost unique advantages as material for the Brooklyn managerial job.

Frankie will fan the flame of the Giants-Dodgers rivalry, than which there is no more profitable grudge in baseball.

OUT WITH RICKEY

Picture for yourself anything remotely resembling a nip-and-tuck pennant fight between New York and Brooklyn, with Frisch in one corner and Col. Will Terry, the swing dancer, in the other.

Why would he write to your congressman weeks in advance for tickets.

With his tremendous personal following in the Bronx, Frisch will almost draw the amount of his salary as Dodger pilot through the turnstiles at the Polo Grounds.

FRANKIE FRISCH

I can all but hear Horace Stoneham chortling over the news of his appointment.

Don't think for a minute that Frankie doesn't know baseball. He was a success in St. Louis, even though he did suffer somewhat from the rickets the past two seasons. Which is to say that he and Boss Branch Rickey didn't agree.

Rickey is one of baseball's most brilliant men. But I'm afraid he suffers under the delusion that if he gives a manager a team that figures to win on paper, it should win on the field.

It doesn't always work out that way. If it did, Tom Yawkey would have bought Joe Cronin a pennant winner in Boston long ago. Tom spent enough money to do it.

Frisch and Rickey have been at loggerheads for two years. It was only because owner Sam Breadon was stuck on him that the old flash lasted as long as he did on the other side of the Mississippi.

So it's nesting time in Flatbush, and Frankie's coming home to let MacPhail kill the prodigal calf for a big beefsteak.

P. S.—I think Bert Shotton will be named to manage the Cardinals.

Tony DiNatale All-Star Chief

After a conference between Coach Joe McKenney of the Eastern College All-Stars and Coach George Kennelly of the Boston Shamrocks whose teams are to clash under floodlights Wednesday night at Fenway Park, Tony DiNatale, who captained the Boston College eleven last fall, was chosen captain of the Eastern College All-Star eleven.

This signal honor was conferred upon DiNatale because of his cooperative spirit in aiding Coach Kennelly to sign up members of the New York squad to play in Boston and also because of his outstanding record as a regular on the Boston College eleven for the past three years.

DiNatale, a brilliant field general as well as an outstanding punter, who starts at quarterback for the Eastern College All-Stars. After the game here Wednesday night he will join the Boston Shamrocks squad for the season.

DiNatale was among the seventeen participants in the All-Star game against the New York Giants last Wednesday night who were scheduled to assemble at the Copely Sq. Hotel tonight for dinner, meeting Coach Joe McKenney, Alex Kevorkian of Harvard, Art Ranno and John McKenna of Villanova, and John Handrahan of Dartmouth.

The squad from New York includes, in addition to DiNatale, Johnny Janusz of Boston College, Jack Daly of Manhattan, Captain Merrill Davis and Warren King of Dartmouth, Frank Souchak and Tony Matsi of Pittsburgh, John Carr and Jim Bowman of Holy Cross, Dave Colwell and Al Hesser of Yale, and Fred Fiore of New York University.
